CLEAN SEED

There is no single farm operation so easily and cheaply done, which gives larger returns, than the thorough cleaning and grading of all seed sown. Besides cleaning out the weed seeds, the light seeds are taken out when the job is properly done, thus preventing the reproduction of the poorer plants. This practice carried on year after year permits the increase of the best and kills out the poorest. Thorough cleaning and grading of all seeds planted is the first step toward a successful crop. There is no time like the present to put the seed in proper shape for planting.

Lives of poor men oft remind us
That the farmer stands no chance
The more I work there grows behind me
Greater patches on my pants.

On my pants once new and glossy
Now are stripes of different hue:
Faithfully I plowed and planted
But my blanded crop never grew.

But I must be up and selling
Be the price, however small,
Least when next the blizzard strikes me
I may have no pants at all.

Mrs. S. Barron, Woodbridge N. J., was 103 years old when she cast her first vote, recently.

G. W. V. A. ANNUAL MEETING

The fourth Annual Meeting of Monitor Branch G. W. V. A. was held Thursday, Jan. 26th, when a large amount of business was transacted and the following officers elected for the ensuing year: Pres. L. O. Gould, Vice-Pres. C. D. Garrett, Secty. Treas. J. O. B. Osborne, Executive Com. W. T. Taylor, H. W. Week, J. C. Matheson.

A combined meeting of Con. sort, Coronation and Monitor Branches was held in the evening, at the Hotel, when E. Poole, 2nd V-Pres. of Alberta Prov. Command, paid an official visit to this district.

Supper was served, followed by a real old-time "round table smoker" where the affairs of the Association were discussed thoroughly, and everyone made to feel at home.

Important Farmers' Meeting

On Friday, Feb. 10th, at 2.30

Monitor by the various U. F. A. Locals and other representatives from the unorganized districts, for the purpose of making recommendations for the various Government appointments throughout the district, also to frame a road program to place before the Commission.

Every district should see that they are represented at this meeting, and voting delegates will be selected from those in attendance.

Miss Florence L. Anderson, daughter of James A. Anderson of Gilby, Alta., formerly of Monitor, was united in marriage to Morris J. Sullivan, on Monday Jan. 30th.

They will reside south-west of town.

J. F. Kemp, of the local Bank staff, has been on the sick list during the past week.

The first signs of Spring appeared in town yesterday with the arrival of the year's supply of garden seeds, for the stores.

A PRETTY WEDDING

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Monday afternoon, January 23rd, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Peters, when their eldest daughter, Alice Isabella, was united in marriage to Thomas Gordon Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Walker, of Oxford, England. The home was beautifully decorated with white and orange streamers, a large bell being suspended from the ceiling, under which the couple stood while the ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. Graham, in the presence of relatives and intimate friends.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was charmingly attired in white silk crepe de chine and wore a veil and wreath of orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white carnations and fern. The bride and groom were unattended. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet watch, and the bride's to the groom, a signet ring.

After the ceremony the bridal party and friends sat down to a tempting supper, after which a pleasant evening was spent.

—Prince George Citizen.

Miss Peters was in charge of the Hillanvale School during the past two years, and T. G. Walker is a well known resident in the Horse Shoe district. The best wishes of the whole community is extended to the happy couple.

The W. A. will present, in the Big Hall, Monitor, Friday Feb. 24th at 8 p. m., a Comedy in three acts entitled "Terms Cash, invariably in advance." Keep this date in mind.

Local Happenings

Owing to the storm on Friday the attendance at the Hockey Club Dance was not very large. Those present thoroughly enjoyed the evening's fun, the music furnished by the orchestra being especially fine.

The Club wishes to express its appreciation to P. Moth and to the members of the orchestra for services kindly rendered.

What promises to be a fast and exciting hockey match will be staged on the local ice, tomorrow afternoon at 3, when Monitor and Sounding Creek will be the opposing teams.

A three day storm struck this neighborhood, last Friday, and blew itself out by Sunday night. When the wind went down the mercury dropped also, and for two mornings it was 24 below. The bright warm sun has made things a little more pleasant during the day time. The cold weather appears to be general all over the country.

C. A. Petersen has returned from his returned home after spending a couple of months at Red Deer.

E. Steensland and wife returned to Monitor, last week, from a visit at Stavelly, Alta.

T. G. and Mrs. Walker came down on Thursday evening's train from Prince George, B. C., and have taken up residence on the farm at Sounding Lake.

Canada's Needs

No. 5—Cheaper Transportation

In preceding articles in this series Canada's need of a larger population, of a return of agricultural prosperity, of world markets for its products, and of a greater employment of Canadian raw materials in home manufactures and domestic use has been pointed out and emphasized. As one means of bringing about the realization of all these improvements in our national life, possibly too great stress cannot be laid upon the question which forms the subject matter of this article, namely, cheaper transportation.

During the war years, and for a time following the Armistice, there was steady and rapid advances in rates charged by the railways of the country both for the carriage of passengers and freight. Rates went up by leaps and bounds until they far surpassed anything known previous to 1914. No doubt advances were inevitable and necessary under the unprecedented conditions created by the war and the financial and commercial upheaval following those years of destruction. But the cumulative effect has been to place such a heavy burden upon production and business as to constitute a handicap under which all industry now languishes.

The burden of excessively high transportation costs must now be removed as a first and necessary step to a resumption of that activity throughout the whole business world which is essential to a return of prosperity and plenty of employment for all.

While war-time high prices for labor and all commodities prevailed, business could carry the burden of high transportation charges. Two dollars a bushel wheat could bear a heavy freight rate and yet leave a profit to the farmer, but wheat which realizes a dollar a bushel or less cannot pay the same price as two dollar wheat and still leave a margin of profit to the grower. And what is true of wheat is equally true in the case of livestock and of all articles of commerce. Yet while the prices of all articles produced by the farmer have enormously decreased, there has been practically no decrease in the charges he has to pay to get his products to market, nor on the necessities of life which he must buy.

The result is that the prevailing high transportation charges are throttling business and ruining the producers of the country. Inevitably and ultimately the railways themselves must suffer. If production continues unprofitable it will cease, or at all events be largely decreased. Decreased production means less traffic for the railways, and a lowered buying power of the people which will mean a smaller consumption of the products of the factories, and a general reduction in business and traffic all round. If the people are not prosperous, the railways cannot be.

The recently adopted unanimous resolution by the Saskatchewan Legislature demanding a reduction in freight rates, followed, as it is predicted it will be, by somewhat similar declarations by the Legislatures of Alberta and Manitoba; the demand voiced by the United Farmers of Manitoba and Alberta, which will be re-echoed by Saskatchewan Grain Growers; the protests by leading newspapers in Toronto, Montreal and other large centres, and the emphatic declaration by Hon. R. E. Fynn, solicitor for the Nova Scotia Government and the Halifax Board of Trade before the Dominion Railway Commission, that, if the Maritime Provinces are to live industrially, and Confederation itself not weakened, they must have lower freight rates, all go to prove that cheaper transportation is the crying need of the Dominion at the present time, and it must be provided without delay if widespread unrest and possible disaster is to be averted.

In urging the immediate reduction of freight rates, there is nothing antagonistic to the railways. Quite the reverse. Everybody appreciates the fact that the railways cannot continue if operated at a loss. It is to the interest of everybody that they should prove profitable and be maintained fully efficient, and that those who have invested their money and given their energy to such enterprises—whether it be private individuals or the nation itself—are entitled to a just return.

But if present conditions are not quickly remedied the railways will soon be numbered among the greatest losers of all. The railways will be far better off with an increased and increasing volume of traffic at reasonable rates, than a restricted and dwindling volume at exorbitant rates. Should traffic continue to decline, the railways must lose unless rates are still further increased to cover such loss of traffic. Rates are almost prohibitive as it is, and admittedly are restrictive of business. There is a point where high rates operate to decrease rather than increase profits, and that point has already been reached, if indeed, it has not been passed.

It is time for a reduction in transportation charges, and the people are uniting in a demand that such reductions, and substantial ones at that, be ordered.

Swedish Aviator Meets Death

Woman Fell 2,000 Feet in Attempting Parachute Descent

Elisa Anderson, the only Swedish woman to hold an aviator's certificate, was killed at Askerud. Four thousand spectators were watching her make a flight and were horrified when Miss Anderson, in attempting a parachute descent from the machine, fell like a plummet, to the earth. The parachute failed to open and the aviator plunged 2,000 feet to death.

DO YOU FEEL LIKE THIS WHEN YOU WAKEN?

It's a wonderful change Dr. Hamilton's Pills will make in a few days. They relieve the system of poisonous wastes, they aid the stomach, improve digestion, increase your appetite. You feel like new all over after using this health bringing medicine. Thousands have proved it. Sold everywhere in 25c boxes, or The Catherphos Co., Montreal.

Quick Growing Trees

Western Farmer Can Grow Wood for Fuel Within Six Years

Many of the species of trees which can be used on the prairies are very rapid growers, for example, cotton wood, willow, Russian poplar, and Manitoba maple. It is safe to say that wood large enough for fuel can be grown from any of these trees within six years. After that time a plantation will increase in value and productivity year by year and will prove one of the best investments on the farm.—Norman M. Ross, Indian Head Forest Nursery Station, is authority for the above.

GUARD YOUR HEALTH

You Can Do This by Keeping the Blood Rich and Red

It is useless to eat and do a working woman to take life easily and not to worry. Every woman at the head of a home; every girl in offices, shops and factories is asked to do more or less. These women cannot be avoided. But it is the duty of every woman and every girl to save her strength as much as possible, and to build up her system to meet unusual demands. Her future health depends upon it. To guard against a breakdown the blood must be kept rich, red and pure. To keep the blood in this condition Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will be found most useful. They strengthen the nerves, restore the appetite and bring the glow of health to pallid cheeks, and renewed energy to listless people. Women cannot always rest when they should, but they can keep up their strength through the occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This is shown by the case of Mrs. Minnie Swick, residing near Simcoe, Ont., who says: "A few years ago I was in a deplorable state of health. My blood was weak and watery and the circulation poor. My appetite was poor and what food I did take did me no good. I was not able to do my housework, and often my nights were sleepless, and headache and weakness added to my misery. I was finally persuaded to drop other medicines and take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This I did, and after taking the pills for a couple of months I could do my housework with ease, eat well, slept well and had gained in weight. From my own experience I cannot praise these pills too highly."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 from "The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont."

A Seagraping Raft

A Japanese firm will make an attempt to raft timber from British Columbia to Japan. The raft will be of the Davis type with a superstructure of oiled logs strongly laced. Twenty years ago a raft made the journey from San Francisco to China, favored by exceptional weather.

Plastic Wood New Material

Very Valuable in Making Patterns for Casting Purposes

The name "Plastic Wood" is given to an extraordinary interesting material recently introduced by a British firm. It is made of very fine wood meal mixed with collodion so as to become of the consistency of soft putty. It can be used for filling and stopping holes in wood, as it is exceedingly tenacious and adheres firmly to woods of all qualities. One of its most valuable applications is in the making of patterns for casting purposes. It can be built up into any form and it sets quite hard so that it can be cut like ordinary wood or turned in the lathe. It has the valuable quality of being waterproof, and it does not warp or deteriorate through damp. Plastic wood can also be finished with sandpaper in the ordinary way, giving a highly glazed finish. Nails can be driven firmly into it without cracking it. Perhaps the only drawback is that its adhesive qualities are so marked that it sticks on the hands of anyone using it. The manufacturers, however, supply a special solvent which enables it to be thoroughly cleaned off the hands.

Sciatica's Pain Relieved

Quickly by Nerviline

In bringing quick relief to the Sciatic sufferer, the best remedy is frequent application of Nerviline. Thousands have proved its success. Nerviline penetrates deeply, every drop rubs right in. The irritated nerves are soothed and the pain goes away. Wherever there is Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Lumbago, or Muscular Pain, the quickest relief always comes from the use of Nerviline, 35c at all dealers.

Mother! Clean

Child's Bowels With California Fig Syrup

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.

Doctor Said "Keep on Using Zam-Buk"

"My little son was badly scalded"

By pulling a pan of boiling water over himself," writes Mrs. Albert Sawyer, of Midland, Ontario. "I called in a doctor, but his ointments failed to ease the child's intense pain. I therefore discontinued the treatment and began with Zam-Buk instead."

"This wonderful balm appeared to relieve pain almost immediately, but to make sure I was doing the right thing, I called in a second doctor. When I told him what I was using, he said: 'That's right—just keep on with Zam-Buk, there's nothing so good for scalds and burns.'"

"As I persevered with Zam-Buk all soreness and inflammation was drawn out of the injuries and new skin gradually formed. It was not long before the scalds—although so extensive and severe—were completely healed."

Zam-Buk chases out all chemicals and stores. 50c. box, is equally splendid for the treatment of eczema, ulcers, ringworm, piles, varicose sores, poisoned wounds, chaps, cold-sores, chilblains, etc.

NOTHING SO GOOD FOR BURNS, SCALDS

Father's "Molecule"

"What are you studying now?" asked Mrs. Johnson.

"We have taken up the subject of molecules," answered her son.

"I hope you will be very attentive and practice constantly," said the mother. "I tried to get your father to wear one, but he couldn't keep it in his eye."

You can sometimes judge a man's ability by the number of relatives he has to support.

MINARD'S "KING OF PAIN" LINIMENT

Blistered Feet, Sore Feet, Tired Feet, Burning and Aching Feet

After a hard day's work or a long tramp and your feet are completely used up, bathe them in hot water, then rub them well with MINARD'S LINIMENT. It will relieve you and you will never be without a bottle.

THIN, FLAT HAIR GROWS LONG, THICK AND ABUNDANT

"Danderine" costs only 35 cents a bottle.

One application ends all dandruff, stops itching, and falling hair, and in a few moments, you have doubled the beauty of your hair. It will appear a mass, so soft, lustrous, and easy to do up. But what will please you most will be after a few weeks use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—growing all over the scalp. "Danderine" is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. This delightful, stimulating tonic helps thin, lifeless, faded hair to grow long, thick, heavy and luxuriant.

Fruit And Vegetables Prepared By A New Method Of Evaporation

The New York Independent recently published an account of what is called a "Pocket Garden" taken to the Arctic seas. "When the MacMillan expedition packed up its goods and chattels a short time ago and departed for Baffin Land and the Frozen North on a voyage of scientific exploration, it carried along the first fresh fruits and vegetables ever to penetrate to that barren country," says The Independent. "Fresh spinach and green corn, new rhubarb in the stalk for rhubarb pies, and raw cabbage for salad were included. Can you imagine the scene? A midsummer dinner in the midst of ice-locked fields and a group of fur-wrapped Eskimaux to wonder and comment on the strange delicacies of the white man's table! Fresh food, months after it has been pulled from the garden and eaten still fresh in a land where no vegetation of any sort is found! How is it accomplished? Every bit of it has been wrapped up simply in paper bags and stowed away with no greater precautions than the blankets or other luggage. Yet sufficient food has been carried along in this form to last each member of the party five months."

According to The Independent, this "Pocket Garden" was made possible by a new process of dehydration, which gets rid of the water in fruits and vegetables without destroying the original flavor, so that, by placing them in water for a few hours, they are restored to a condition of freshness. This process is designed not for dehydration on a large scale in factories, but for use on farms and in homes, so that the housewife, whether on the farm or in the town, can quickly and economically preserve fruits and vegetables for winter use.

Dehydrated fruit or evaporated fruit as it is used to be called, has not been received very favorably by the public in the past, because processes were imperfect and the resulting products unsatisfactory. Recent discoveries by experts and the latest resulting apparatus have now removed all objections, and demonstrations have been given at which those in attendance were unable to distinguish between dishes prepared from the fresh and from the dehydrated and restored materials.

If a domestic dehydrator capable of dispelling the water from fruits and vegetables without destroying the flavor could be manufactured in Canada and sold at a price to bring it within the reach of every housekeeper, it would considerably reduce the cost of living both by eliminating waste and by reducing the cost of preserving fruits and vegetables in the household. It would save the cost of glass jars and other necessities of old-fashioned canning. Dehydrated fruits can be safely kept in cardboard boxes such as are used for cereal foods or even in ordinary paper bags. However, any housekeeper who has glass jars and wishes to use them for the purpose of storing dehydrated food can put a much greater quantity of food in a jar than was possible when preserving food by old-fashioned canning methods.

According to a table prepared by Prof. Caldwell, Horticultural Investigation Branch, Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C., hundred-pound lots of fresh fruits and vegetables reduce as follows upon dehydration, the differences in weights being due to the varying quantities of water in different kinds of fruits and vegetables:

Product	Pounds
Apples to .....	12 to 15
Apricots to .....	16 to 18
Blackberries to .....	16 to 20
Beans to .....	11 to 13
Beets to .....	14 to 17

Carrots to .....	10 to 12
Cauliflower to .....	12 to 14
Celery to .....	8 to 9
Cherries (sweet) to .....	22 to 26

Spinach to .....	8 to 10
Squash to .....	7 to 9
Tomatoes to .....	6 1/2 to 9
Turnips to .....	7 to 8

There has never in the past been a system of home drying that would compare favorably in convenience with what is known as "canning" in glass jars, but it is claimed that this difficulty has now been solved, and that food can be dried in the home more conveniently and economically than it can be "canned."

Women prefer their home preserved fruit to factory canned products, not only because they take pride in their own work, but also because they know exactly the condition of the fruits and vegetables at the time they were preserved, and although most of the canning factories exercise great care in the selection of fruits and vegetables, women will always have more confidence in their own selection and examination. A similar preference would no doubt be given to home dehydrated food as compared with the factory product if it could be conveniently dried at home in such a way as to preserve the original flavor, and packed in attractive pasteboard containers properly labelled.

There exists at the present time a good deal of prejudice against dehydrated foods owing to the fact that in past methods of dehydration with hot air, or by long exposure to the sun and air, the outer cells of fruits, vegetables, meats and fish were destroyed and many of the essential oils and flavors escaped before the water was expelled from the inner cells. However, it is claimed that by a process which slightly moistens the dry air with steam, wonderful results have been achieved in the preservation of fruits, vegetables, meats and fish.

Health of Dairy Cattle

Everything Depends Upon Proper Precautions Against Infection

The question has recently been raised as to whether the making of high production records is detrimental to the health of dairy cattle, and whether the risk of disease to pure-breeds is sufficient to deter a man who places a high value upon the health of his herd from engaging in the pure-bred business. To the first question the Veterinary Director-General of the Dominion has replied that there is no doubt that intensive feeding to stimulate excessive milk production has a tendency to lower the resistance of the body to attacks of infectious disease, but that if proper precautions are taken against danger of infection, there is no reason why record making should interfere with maintenance of health. Without infection no disease of an infectious nature, such as tuberculosis, is possible. To the second question the Veterinary Director-General gives a decided negative. There is, he says, if a man is willing to take the proper precautions, nothing to prevent him building up a herd of pure-bred dairy cattle as free from disease as any other. He points out that under the accredited herd system now in existence, the opportunities for doing this are a great deal better than they were in former years. Purchases can now be made from accredited herds with every confidence that the animals are absolutely free from tuberculosis.

German Toys Dumped in Britain

Owing to complaints from British manufacturers that German toys are sold in Great Britain below prices at which similar goods can profitably be made in Britain, in consequence of the depreciation of German currency, the British board of trade has appointed a committee to consider the question of imposing on such toys a special duty under the provisions of the safeguarding of industries act.

Blucher Palace Is Bought by American

A Mail and Empire cable from London says American capital to the extent of 44,000,000 marks (about $250,000) is involved in a real estate transaction just closed in Berlin, by which the historic Blucher Palace in the Pariser Platz, passes into the hands of an American of Lettish descent, named Zmuiding, who intends to convert the palace into an office building for an American bank.

Wireless for Police

Chicago Officers Will Carry Small Phone Apparatus

Soon every policeman in Chicago will carry in his pocket a miniature wireless telephone. No matter in what part of the country he is traveling, headquarters can communicate with him instantly. A policeman will be able to receive a message but can't send one. He can hold the instrument in his hand. It has a receiver, which he can place to his ear, and when properly tuned in with headquarters he can hear his message as distinctly as from a call box. The receiving antennae will be in the lining of the policeman's coat. While walking along the street the policeman will suddenly become aware of a little buzzing sound—the signal. He will place the receiver to his ear and get the message.

Agricultural Education Is Carried To A Point Of Excellence In Canada

The finest proof of the standing of agricultural education in Canada, and the excellence of the agricultural colleges of the Dominion was given at the Chicago International Livestock Exposition when the Ontario Agricultural College of Guelph, the Manitoba Agricultural College of Winnipeg, and the Macdonald Agricultural College of Quebec covered themselves with glory in the judging contests, winning the first prize in individual standing as well as other awards.

F. W. Walsh, a member of the quintet representing the province of Ontario, with a score of 831 out of a possible 1,000, secured the premier judging honors. R. E. White, of the same college, finished fifth with a score of 861, and G. E. Rathby, also of Ontario, was fifteenth in the standing, with a mark of 831. In the contest for aggregate college honors, the Ontario team was just nosed out by that from Ohio. A survey of the history of the college, however, reveals the fact that this honor has already on a previous occasion fallen to its representatives.

The great merit of these achievements will be appreciated when it is considered what a small percentage of the total Canadian student body represented in comparison with the numbers from all the States of the Union. It is concrete proof of the superlative quality of Canadian agricultural education and reflects in the most creditable manner upon the Dominion's first pursuit of farming. This exposition, with its competitions which are comprehensive and exhaustive, is regarded in Canada no less than the United States as the criterion of agricultural efficiency and display, and it may justly be assumed from these successes that Canadian agricultural colleges take second place to none.

All this bears on the general fact that the Dominion regards its first industry as its basic of all progress present and future, and in this appreciation spares no effort or expense in its promotion. Not only is the farmer aided and encouraged in every way by the government, Federal and Provincial, but all possible is effected in the line of education to prepare the farm child for his great destiny and in training him to become the most efficient agriculturalist. At the apex of this training comes the agricultural college.

Educational matters being under the jurisdiction of the various provinces, agricultural scholarship comes under this head and the agricultural colleges are instituted and partially supported by the provincial governments. The Agricultural Instruction Act, of 1913, provided for the payment to the provinces of the sum of ten million dollars in a period of ten years for the purpose of aiding and advancing the farming industry of Canada. It was intended to supplement provincial appropriations and with a view to enabling the provinces to finance and carry out instructional efforts in the interest of agriculture in a more extended and comprehensive manner than would otherwise be possible—to promote better farming methods and encourage agricultural education.

Agricultural colleges are to be found all over the Dominion, serving the peculiar needs of the farmers of every section. Alberta possesses the Alberta Agricultural College as part of the provincial university at Edmonton as well as six agricultural schools in various parts of the province. British Columbia has an agricultural faculty at its university, as has Saskatchewan. Manitoba Agricultural College at Winnipeg has created an enviable reputation for itself and is open to any student irrespective of previous education. New Brunswick has two agricultural colleges and Nova Scotia one establishment. Ontario has the Agricultural College at Guelph with more than a thousand students and two other establishments. Macdonald College, near Montreal, with nearly eight hundred students, is supplemented in Quebec with colleges at Ste. Anne de la Pocatiere and La Trappe, Oka, both affiliated with Laval University.

Agricultural colleges in Canada have been so instituted and arranged that the best possible agricultural education is within reach of any boy or girl or youth aspiring to the pursuit of scientific farming. To meet the needs of the people of the farm who find it impossible to get away to take the longer courses, short, intensive instructional courses are given in the winter months.

Then in the fear that even so some may not be reached, the college goes to the farmer, and by means of specially equipped trains travelling through the country takes a demonstration and instructional course to the farmer's door.

Movable Schools

Thirteen movable schools form part of the equipment for agricultural extension work in Bulgaria. Each school has a trained staff, and the courses cover anywhere from a week to a month. The total attendance last year was 23,000.

A Famous Sea Captain Late Commander of the "Empress of France."

The Canadian Pacific recently lost by death in England one of their popular sea captains when Captain Ebenezer Cook, R.N.R., late of the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of France," passed away at his residence at Great Crosby.

After conveying Mr. A. J. Balfour and other prominent Peace Conference delegates across the Atlantic, Captain Cook was taken ill on arrival at Quebec. He was lying ill on the steamer on her return voyage, and when the steamer reached Liverpool he was removed by ambulance to his home, but too late to recover.

The late Captain Cook, who was 53 years of age, was a man of fine appearance, and possessed a most courteous and genial disposition. He was looked upon as one of the most capable commanders sailing from the Mersey, and he performed excellent service during the war years. Captain Cook was born at Tayport, and joined the Allan Line in 1893 as fourth officer of the "Carthagenian." Within four years he was promoted to chief officer of the "Tunisian," and he became the Commander of the "Orcaidan" in 1907. On the commencement of the war the Admiralty placed him in command of the "Victorian," and later he was given and the Rt Hon. Mr. A. J. Balfour.

The high esteem in which the late Commander Ebenezer Cook was held manifested itself at the funeral which was attended by a large throng of mourners, colleagues and friends. The funeral service was held at St. Luke's Presbyterian Church, Great Crosby, the service being conducted by the Rev. J. Vaughan, M.A., Vicar of Great Crosby. Captain Cook was a prominent member of the Masonic Brotherhood, being attached to Crosby Lodge 3714. At the funeral the Canadian Pacific Steamships Limited were represented by J. A. Martin, London Manager, who also represented Sir Thomas Fisher general manager; Capt. J. V. Foster, Liver-

Following the Armistice, the Canadian Pacific Company retained him as commander of the "Albatross," which liner, following her conversion from war service, was renamed the "Empress of France." Captain Cook has since sailed regularly on this liner, and he was very highly esteemed by ocean travellers, including such distinguished passengers on the "Empress of France" as the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire, Lord Byng (Governor-General of Canada), pool Steamships manager; W. J. Sargent, consulting engineer; Capt. Maxwell, marine surveyor; D. Hallan, chief catering superintendent; W. Davies, dock superintendent; Capt. A. H. Sargent, R.N.R.; A. C. Wilson, shipping master; T. McNeil, Liverpool general agent, C.P.R., who represented Sir George McLaren Brown, European general manager; R. A. Swain, passenger agent, C.P.R. A large number of the officers and staff of the "Empress of France" and "Empress of Britain" were present. Many beautiful floral tributes were laid on the grave.

CAN THE DEAF BE MADE TO HEAR?

This question can be answered both ways. If the deafness is due to Catarrh, success is general if the sufferer persists in the use of Catarrhoxone—and thereby drives Catarrh out of the system. Penetrating through the passages of the ear, the soothing vapor of Catarrhoxone—relieves the inflammation, destroys the Seeds of Catarrh and thereby allows nature to reassert herself. For Catarrhal Deafness, pains over the ears, plugged nostrils and other symptoms associated with Catarrh, use Catarrhoxone. You'll be more than pleased with the quick improvement in your condition. He was much more than Gardiner's match in strength and he had little fear of the revolver, provided he could take his adversary unawares. and he rode along to a frame of mind bordering upon cheerfulness.

It was now quite dark, and the horses plied their steps carefully along the hillside trails. At last Gardiner drew up and pointed to a heavy clump of trees. A faint glimmer of light shone through it.

"That's the shack," he whispered. "They have a lantern there. We better get off the road and tether our horses in this coulee. Don't go too close; their horses may call to ours, and they will come out to meet us."

They turned down a narrow ravine with scarce room to walk single file between the branching trees. The stream was almost dry, and the horses' hoofs clanked alarmingly along the bed of the creek. They tied their where the woods closed all about them, and there seemed no chance of discovery.

"Quietly, now," said Gardiner, as they stole toward the old building. "Things seem to be working out as we planned, but we must make sure of every detail, so that we can change the attack if necessary."

The two men slipped up the rough road leading to the hut. Piles felt his heart thumping, and his lungs seemed half choked for air, but Gardiner lost none of his composure, and would have lit a cigarette had he not

Headache

Recurring headaches usually come from an exhaustion of the nervous system, and they do not disappear until the vigor of the nerve cells is restored by such up-building treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Temporary relief by use of powders is often obtained at an enormous expense to the nervous system and the general health.

Get the nerves right and the headaches will not return.

Mrs. W. J. Pearce, Nunn St., Cobourg, Ont., writes:

"My system became run-down and I suffered greatly with pain in my head. This was so severe that I would have to bind a cloth tightly about my head so that I could get any work done. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after taking the first box I found quite an improvement in my condition. I continued using them until I had taken about seven boxes, and they strengthened and built up my system splendidly, completely relieving the pain in my head."

learned the light would betray them. The glow of the lantern came from the building, shining in a long, fading wedge from the shadowless window, but seemed strangely obscure about the door. As they approached this mystery was revealed; a blanket was seen to hang over the doorway.

"That's the sign," whispered Gardiner. "One, or both of them, are sleeping. That's why they feel the cold. If they had stayed awake they would have been by fire and 'pompoms' walked about outside. This morning air gets a man that isn't used to it. I'll bet you could go to sleep yourself this minute, Riles, if you weren't so scared."

"I ain't scared, damn you," said Riles, though the words trembled in his teeth. "If it comes to a showdown we'll see who's scared."

"That's good," said Gardiner. "That's the way to talk. If you just keep that up for a few minutes it'll all be over."

They paused for a moment to listen. The night was moonless and starry, except where a bank of clouds came drifting up from the south-west. A moist breeze, smelling of soft, mountain snow, gently stirred the trees about them. But from the shanty no sound could be discerned. They approached nearer, and still nearer.

"Now, you go to the door, and I'll take the window," Gardiner ordered. "Shove the blanket aside a little and size up the situation before you speak. We must make sure they're there, and there alone."

Gardiner waited until he saw Riles fumbling carefully with the blanket that hung in the doorway. Then he darted quickly to the window.

CHAPTER XVII.

The Fight in the Foothills

While Allan sat in the little cabin he gradually became oppressed with a sense of great loneliness. From time to time he looked at the face of his sleeping father, and suddenly the knowledge struck him like a knife that it was the face of an old man. He had never thought of him as an old man before, but as he lay on the couch floor, sleeping soundly after his long drive, there was something in the form that told of advancing years, and Allan could see plainly the deepening furrows in his strong, still handsome face.

As he looked a vast tenderness mingled with his loneliness; he would have stooped and caressed him had he not feared to disturb his slumbers. Allan's love for his father was that of a man to man rather than son to parent; it was the only deep passion of his young life, and it ran with a fullness that could not be checked.

Of his mother he thought with kindness, but his thoughts of her had not lately been quite as it should be in their domestic circle; toward his sister he felt a vague longing and uneasiness, and a new feeling which had taken root that afternoon that perhaps after all she was right in seeking to live her life as she would; but it was to his father that his great emotion turned.

He looked upon the sleeping man now, with the wealth of a lifetime's labour at his side, and the bond of sympathy and confidence between them seemed so tight it brought the moisture to his eyes. He thought of the past years: of their labour on the farm together—hard labour, but always relieved by their comradeship and mutual ambitions. A hundred half-forgotten incidents came to mind, in all of which his father was companion and chum rather than parent and corrector. And after all, hadn't it been worth while? Hadn't not they, in their way, really given expression to their lives as best they could in the black earth-smelling furrows, in the scent of tall, straw-encased steam from their engine, or the wet night perfume of ripening wheat? How those old smells beat up from the mysterious chambers of memory; and intoxicated his nostrils with fondness and a great sense of having, in some few hallowed moments, done tilled his own career into the greater purposes of creation! Allan did not analyze these thoughts and memories, or try to fit them into words, but they brought to him a consciousness of having lived—of having known some experiences that were not altogether material and temporal.

And then his memory carried him still further back—back to the days when he was a little child, and in the mirror of the darkness he could see his own small figure trudging in the track of the plough and hanging to the reins that dropped from the knot on his father's ample back. Back to the old old shanty, with its sweet smell of comfort when the snow beat against the little window and the wind roared in the rattling stove-pipe, and his mother sat by the fire and plied her flying needles. What wonderful times they were, and what wonderful dreams in the little, thoughtful child-mind just catching the first glimmerings of life! Could it be this old cabin, these totting logs, this earthly floor, these stirring memory cells asleep for twenty years? He would not allow his mind to be drawn into speculation—the thing was the remembrance, now, when it was offered him. Old ballads stole into his brain; a deep peace compassed him, and consciousness faded thinner and thinner into the sea of the infinite.

Allan sat up in a sudden, cold chill of terror. Had he been asleep? What cold breath of dread had crossed his path? He was no coward; the sense of fear was almost unknown to him, but now it enveloped him, stifled him, set his teeth chattering and his limbs quivering. He had heard nothing, seen nothing. The gun was in his hands as it had lain when last he remembered it; his father slept by his side, and near the wall lay the precious satchel. And yet he shook in absolute, unreasoning, unfounded terror. His eyes wandered from the lantern to the door—to the blanket hanging limply in the door; and there the stared and stayed as though held in the spell of a serpent. Subconsciously, certainly without any direction of will of his own, he raised the shotgun to his shoulder and kept it trained on the sagging blanket. The blanket seemed to move! It swayed at first as though a light breeze had touched it, and yet not as though a breeze had touched it. The impulse seemed too far up—about the height of a man's shoulder. The blood had gone from Allan's face; he was as one in a trance, obeying some iron law outside the realm of the will and the reason. He cocked his gun and tightened his finger on the trigger, and watched. . . . And then, so plain that it must have been real, he saw stealthy fingers feeling their way about the blanket.

Then Allan fired.

In an instant he was wide awake, and wondering terribly what had happened. The explosion blew out the lantern, and the building was in utter darkness. His father was clambering to his feet with "Allan, what is it? What is it, Allan?" The blanket had been torn from its hangings as by a heavy weight, and something was writhing in it in the doorway. Allan sprang up and would have rushed upon it, but in the darkness he could find his adversary's arm and ran up to his throat, but before they could fasten in a fatal grip there was another flash of light, and a hot pang stabbed him in the breast. There was a strange gurgling in his lungs, a choking in his throat, a spinning dizziness in his head, as he staggered over the mass in the doorway and fell into the night.

Gardiner had reached the window just in time to see Allan's gun trained on the doorway. For an instant, he stood dumbfounded; there was something uncanny in the sight of the young man sitting there in silent, absolute readiness for the attack. He drew back to warn Riles, but he was too late. At that moment the gun spoke; there was the sound of a heavy body falling, and stifled noises bore ample evidence of the accuracy of Allan's aim. But even in that moment of uncertainty Gardiner had not lost thought of their purpose, and his quick eye took in the sleeping form of John Harris and the location of the leather bag beside the wall. Without an instant's hesitation he vaulted through the window and, revolver in hand, began to steal his way softly toward the treasure.

He had not taken three steps when Allan plunged full force into him. He staggered with the shock, but recovered himself only to find the young farmer's strong fingers clutching for his throat. It had been no part of Gardiner's plan that there should be bloodshed in the carrying out of the robbery, but he was a man of quick decision, who accepted conditions as he found them. A slight pressure on the trigger, and Allan fell, coughing, through the door.

Federal Government Will Provide Relief For Unemployed

Ottawa.—Measures for the relief of unemployment and distress throughout Canada, the necessary funds to be provided by governor-general's warrants, have been approved by the Federal Government.

The regulations cover the period to the end of the current fiscal year, March 31, and provide federal assistance to municipalities undertaking civic work during the winter months; to municipalities on account of the unemployment where work cannot be provided; and for the relief of distress in unorganized districts.

A special feature of the regulations is that in the case of unemployment of former members of the Canadian, or British forces now in Canada and who were discharged physically fit, the government will reimburse municipal authorities to the extent of one-half the disbursements made for unemployment relief, the provincial and municipal authorities to bear the remaining half.

In the case of public works undertaken by municipalities with a view to the relief of unemployment, the regulations provide that the municipality must bear the normal cost plus one-sixth of the extra cost. The government will pay one-half the extra cost and the province one-third. The federal grant is conditional on the province assuming one-third of such expenditure and the estimate of normal cost must be approved by the federal department of public works.

Where work cannot be provided, conditional upon the participation of the province concerned, the Federal Government will refund to a municipality one-third of the disbursements made on account of unemployment relief. Soldiers coming under the special provisions are not to be dealt with in this particular regulation.

In provinces where there are unorganized districts without municipal government in which the unemployment or distress exists and the provincial government finds it necessary to administer a system of unemployment or distress relief, the Federal Government will reimburse the provincial government to the extent of one-half of such disbursements.

Drunkennes in Scotland

London.—Official Scottish judicial statistics show an increase of forty per cent. in persons before the criminal courts during the last year. Convictions for drunkenness number 76,000, this total being an increase of 30,000 over the previous year, but five thousand lower than the figures for 1915 and 26,000 lower than in 1913. The number of juvenile offenders decreased.

HEART WOULD BEAT LIKE A TRIP HAMMER

Heart trouble has of late years become very prevalent. Sometimes a pain catches you in the region of the heart, now and then your heart skips beats, palpitates, throbs, or beats with such rapidity and violence you think it is going to burst.

You have weak and dizzy spells, sinking sensations, are nervous, irritable and depressed, and if you attempt to walk upstairs or any distance you get all out of breath.

We know of no remedy that will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy normal condition as will

MILBURN'S

HEART AND NERVE PILLS

Mrs. Chadwick, Delhi, Ont., writes: "I had palpitation of the heart, and the least exercise, such as going upstairs or up a hill, my heart would beat like a trip hammer and at times I was dizzy-headed and had a sinking sensation as if my time were near. A friend suggested I try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, so I procured three boxes, and by the time the first one was used I began to improve. In all I took six boxes, and now although in my 66th year I feel like a young girl; no dizziness or heart-thumping, and can walk miles without fatigue. At time of sickness I weighed 120 lbs. now I weigh 150."

Russia May Side With Germany

Paris.—The French Government, because of information received from Berlin, is much preoccupied by what it considers the possibility of an agreement between the German and Russian Soviet Government with a view to forcing consideration of a revision of the peace treaties at the coming Genoa conference, it was indicated the foreign office here. That office had been advised that Earl Radek, of the Soviet diplomatic force, was in Berlin, together with several other Soviet representatives engaged in conference with representatives of the German Government.

SUSPEND WORK ON DRYDOCK

CONSTRUCTION COMPANY AT VANCOUVER STATE NO REASON GIVEN

Vancouver, B.C.—In announcing that a formal request had been received from the government to suspend work on the floating drydock here, the Wallace Construction Company stated that no reason was given, but that it was understood the new administration wished to review the form of contract.

The dock was being constructed under the drydock subsidies act. The subsidy was for four and a half per cent. on the cost of the projects, $2,500,000 for 35 years. The work has not progressed very far beyond the preliminary stages.

According to reports reaching Victoria there will be no cancellation or suspension of work on the Esquimalt drydock pending the taking of office by the minister of public works. Already $1,500,000 has been expended on the drydock and 200 men are employed.

B.C. Entitled to More Members

Increase in Population Gives Province Two Extra Representatives

Ottawa.—The increase of 130,889 in British Columbia's population as shown in census returns will also mean increased representation from that province in the House of Commons following the next redistribution. At present British Columbia sends 13 members to the House. Its population of 523,369 will entitle it to 15 members, an increase of two over the present representation.

Calgary Wants New Post Office

Ottawa.—The need of a new post office building in Calgary, Alta., was urged upon the minister of public works, Hqn. Hewitt Bostock, by R. C. Marshall, Liberal member of the Alberta legislative assembly for Calgary, who was one of a deputation appointed by the mayor of that city to confer with the Federal authorities asking that this work be proceeded with. Consideration of the request was promised by the minister.

Suggests Reducing Armies

Washington.—The Allied nations by revising the treaty of Versailles and reducing their armies, even to a reasonable extent, not only could meet the latest payments of their debts to the United States but pay part of the principal as well. Senator Borah, Republican, Idaho, declared in the Senate. He was discussing the Allied debt refunding bill.

Rifles For Russia

Stockholm.—Swedish newspapers assert that a plot has been revealed to ship into Russia 300,000 army rifles alleged to have been sold to the Soviet authorities through Swedish intermediaries. The rifles are said to have come originally from Germany, but are believed to have been held in storage in Denmark for some time.

Livestock Convention

Successful Meet of Stockman Is Held In Regina

Regina, Sask.—With several hundred delegates of the various breeders' associations in attendance, the Saskatchewan livestock convention held here last week was an unqualified success. There were sessions of the wool growers, sheep breeders and swine breeders associations. The reports of the officers of these various organizations show a considerable improvement in the livestock industry of the province and hold out brighter prospects for the ensuing year.

One of the most interesting features of the session was the boys' and girls' judging contests. About 60 boys and girls from the rural parts of the province assembled in the city to take part in these contests, which were under the direction of H. Saville, boys' and girls' organizer for Saskatchewan. Professor A. M. Shaw, of the University of Saskatchewan, was in charge of the judging.

Unionists Say Anarchy Increasing

Situation Alarming When Crown Forces Leave Ireland

Dublin.—The executive committee of the Irish Unionist Alliance has adopted a resolution, in which it declared: "Viewing with alarm the increasing anarchy prevailing in Ireland, we are gravely apprehensive that when the crown forces have been withdrawn there will be no reliable protection for life and property."

No Unemployment in France

Montreal.—Zephyr/ Hebert, ex-president of the local board of trade, addressing the Wholesale Merchandise Brokers' Association here, asserted that there was practically no unemployment in France, a country from which he had just returned. Every one there was working and as a result there was a gradual rehabilitation of the country, despite a burden of taxation that made the Canadian income tax look tiny.

Miss Thereault Praises Dodd's Kidney Pills

Popular New Brunswick Lady Funnishes Some of the Reasons Why Dodd's Kidney Pills are Suffering Women's Best Friend. Upper Pocomoche, N.B.—(Special) "I can enthusiastically recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to all persons afflicted with any form of kidney trouble."

So says Miss Alice Thereault, the popular school teacher here. And Miss Thereault adds that she knows out of her own experience that Dodd's Kidney Pills are good. "I have experienced great benefit from this medicine since I have been troubled with kidney trouble. I always got good results from using them."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are known from one end of Canada to the other as suffering women's best friend. They are purely and simply a kidney remedy. They strengthen the kidneys to do their full work of straining all the impurities out of the blood. Sound kidneys mean good health. Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make sound kidneys.

Fight Clause In Liquor Act

Montreal.—The clause in the Quebec Liquor Act that holds that a man is responsible for the misdeeds of his wife if she illegally sells liquor, is being attacked by Saluste Lavery, K.C., acting on behalf of James Ingram, a sailor, who is at present serving a month in jail because his wife sold liquor while he was on the high seas. Ingram took out habeas corpus proceedings against the sentence, but these were quashed by Mr. Justice Bruneau in the Superior Court. The case has now been taken to appeal and the Attorney-General has been called in to defend the clause in question.

CONVICTS ATTACK AUSTRALIAN LINER

STEAMER CARRIED GOLD CON- SIGNED TO SAN FRANCISCO BANKS

San Francisco.—A gun fight with naval convicts at Pago Pago, Samoa, was one of the incidents of the voyage of S.S. Sonoma, which arrived here from Sydney, N.S.W., with $2,000,000 in Australian gold aboard.

Fearing an attack on the ship's specie tanks, the Sonoma's officers opened fire on the naval convicts who attacked the Sonoma's crew when she was in port at Pago Pago. The casualties are not known to the officers who told the story here.

On a previous voyage $128,000 worth of Australian gold was removed from the Sonoma's specie tanks and later found suspended from the ship's side under water. The gold is consigned by the Australian Commonwealth to San Francisco banks.

To Combat Grasshopper Plague

Manitoba Legislature Will Be Asked For $50,000

Winnipeg.—For the purpose of combatting the grasshopper plague throughout the province during the coming season the Manitoba Legislature will be asked to pass a vote of $50,000. J. H. Evans, deputy minister of agriculture, has announced.

During last summer, when an identical amount was set aside for this work, the menace had been controlled with the damage almost negligible. Mr. Evans stated. With the advent of spring, however, there is little doubt but that grasshoppers will appear in old affected areas as well as in new districts.

The Prince At Mysore

London.—The Prince of Wales everywhere in the state of Mysore, Southern India, has received an enthusiastic welcome, even from the Mohammedans, according to information reaching the India office.

The result of the visit of the Prince is declared to have been particularly gratifying after the non-operators' activities of last autumn and the Khalifat activities in Bagaloor during the past two years.

Winnipeg Woman President

Winnipeg.—At the annual meeting of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, western division, held here, Mrs. W. Sanford Evans, of Winnipeg, was chosen president for the ensuing year.

Probate Sir Arthur's Will

London.—The will of the late Sir Arthur Pearson, founder of the St. Dunstan's Institution for the Blind, has been probated. The estate is valued at $294,000 and is left entirely to the family.

To Discharge 3,000 From Dockyard

London.—Nearly three thousand men are slated for discharge from Rosyth Royal Dockyard during the next three months. This will result in a saving of one hundred thousand pounds annually.

Washington.—A strong movement for revival of the United States grain corporation to pool the wheat of the country and purchase it as in the war period, is on among United States wheat growers. Not only is sentiment for this reflected in the agricultural conference at present in session, but petitions for legislation are reaching Congress from wheat States.

The demand is that the government buy the wheat crop at a price which will cover cost of production plus reasonable profit. It is probable the plan will be blocked in Congress, though it has powerful support.

Recommendation against any proposition looking toward price fixing on agricultural products was voted by a subcommittee of the committee on marketing of farm products in the agricultural conference. This decision, it was said, was reached only after a strong fight by advocates of the price fixing proposition.

Proposals looking to the development of United States agriculture as a self-sustaining industry were considered by the National Agricultural Conference while its committees continued to work on suggested measures to relieve the present acute situation and provide for general rehabilitation.

Reduction of wages paid railroad labor and of freight rates was recommended by a subcommittee on costs, prices and readjustment. The committee declared that prices paid railroad labor and that of other industries was much greater than returns received by agricultural labor and that a readjustment was necessary.

Frenchman Invents New Gun

Engineer Claims It Has No Recoil When Fired

Brussels.—Le Soir says that experiments will begin at Liege, Feb. 6, with a new gun which, if it fulfills expectations, will have world-wide bearing on ordnance. The invention is that of a French engineer, Delamare Mase, who will direct the tests. There is no recoil when the gun is fired, consequently it is expected to eliminate the brake and slide devices. It will have the same power as other guns its size, with only one-third of their weight.

More Employment In Britain

London.—A quarter of a million fewer people were registered in Great Britain on January 17, as wholly unemployed, than were registered six months ago. The present total is nearly 2,000,000. The number of men employed on government and municipal schemes and emergency work totals 124,000.

World Happenings Briefly Told

A new scale of law charges in Great Britain has increased the cost of litigation fifty per cent.

Plans for an air service between London and Cork, that would shorten the journey to the American continent by at least a day, are being prepared.

Captain Joseph Howe, 69, grandson of the late Hon. Joseph Howe, Nova Scotia statesman, is dead at Port Maitland.

Private cable advices received from Japanese centres intimate that the Yokohama silk bourse has again suspended trading as a result of recent wide fluctuations in prices.

The steamer Aquarius, the first of the Russian relief vessels to leave Philadelphia, has sailed for a Russian port with a full cargo of grain and other food.

The effort to collect a million dollars to create a Woodrow Wilson Foundation, which shall be a permanent memorial to America's war president, has been launched throughout the United States.

It is understood that Hon. W. S. Fielding has been able to examine the general state of the national finances and while there is nothing to justify alarm, his report has impressed upon his colleagues the need for a ruthless policy of economy.

Two prospectors, known as Slim Nelson and Shorty Madden, were burned to death in their bunks in a cabin at Hyder, Alaska, according to news brought to Prince Rupert from Stewart, B.C. The cabin was destroyed by fire before people realized that anyone occupied it.

A Real Optimist

Royalties On Fur Pelts

Wolves Cause Decline of Moose in Manitoba

Royalties collected on fur pelts by the Manitoba Government totalled $40,513 last year, the annual report of the game branch department of agriculture shows.

Total revenue collected during the year was $74,549, which included 10,665 resident game bird permits at $1 each and 2,846 resident big game permits at $4 each. The report states that moose is the only game animal decreasing in the province, mainly due to the ravages of timber and prairie wolves.

Evening Gown of White Satin and Black Lace

By Marie Belmont

The eternal appeal of black and white still finds new modes of expression, of which a charming example is the evening frock sketched above.

Heavy white satin forms the simple gown, with bateau neckline and skirt draped slightly up in the back. Black lace drops in soft panels at the sides and covers one arm. A girle of crystal beads defines the waistline.

A narrow band of crystal beads gives a classic touch to the simply arranged coiffure.

WINTER HARD ON BABY

The winter season is a hard one on the baby. He is more or less confined to stuffy, badly ventilated rooms. It is so often stormy that the mother does not get him out in the fresh air as often as she should. He catches colds which rack his little system; his stomach and bowels get out of order and he becomes peevish and cross. To guard against this the mother should keep a box of Baby's Own Tablets in the house. They regulate the stomach and bowels, and break up colds. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

"My Canada"

Entertaining Story Gives Glimpses of Life in Western Canada

Although not a new book, there has recently come to the attention of the writer, a very pleasing story by Elinor Maraden Elliot. "My Canada" is the title, and it is written in the form of a diary, each chapter dealing with the experiences of a young lady who comes to Western Canada from England. As revealed in the diary, Miss Elliot left her home in England with the two-fold purpose of escaping from an undesirable matrimonial alliance and with the intention of realizing an ambition to engage in poultry farming. At the outset, there is a suspicion that Elinor Maraden Elliot is in reality merely the pen name of a very clever writer who must have spent the most of her life in the prairie provinces, the characteristics of which she knows so well. After a glimpse of urban and rural life in Manitoba, heightened by considerable local color, the reader follows the fortunes of Elinor to Southern Alberta. Unquestionably the authoress gleaned her knowledge of ranch life from actual association so truthfully does she draw the picture. The history of this period in the life of the lovable English girl is revealed in a simple yet fascinating manner, whimsically humorous, which holds the interest without lapse. In the foreword, Miss Elliot expresses the hope that the story may contribute to a better understanding between Canada and the Motherland. That this worthy motive permeates the pages of the book is quite evident, and whether this Western Empire is the native or adopted country of the reader, certain it is that one's pride and love of Canada will be strengthened by reading this wholesome and captivating story.

To win a race a Jockey doesn't put extra weight on the horse that helps him succeed

No man or woman who wants to succeed in the race of life can afford the handicap of headaches, insomnia, indigestion and debility. Nor can they afford to take anything that may keep up a continual irritation of the nervous system.

Yet this is what many people do who drink excessive amounts of tea or coffee. For tea and coffee contain caffeine, a substance that is sometimes very injurious. Many doctors say that caffeine raises the blood pressure, irritates the kidneys, and over-stimulates the entire nervous system. Also that it is especially bad for growing children, or for anyone who has any tendency to nervousness or insomnia.

If you want to avoid a possible cause of headache, insomnia, or nervousness, it might be well to stop taking tea and coffee for awhile, and drink rich, satisfying Postum, instead.

Postum is a delicately-roasted, pure cereal beverage—delicious and wholesome.

Order Postum from your grocer today. Drink this fragrant, healthful beverage for awhile, and see if you will not feel brighter, more active, and more resistant to fatigue—as so many thousands of others have felt.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes.

 Registrar

Along about the middle of March a series of meetings will be held, in Monitor, for the purpose of organizing Boys' and Girls' Clubs, in conjunction with the School Fair.

Both Dominion and Provincial organizers will attend these meetings and speak on various live farm topics.

It has been suggested that the U. F. A. be urged to put on a Farmers' Chautauqua at the same time in connection with these meetings.

The probable dates are March 14, 15 and 16.
